A Matching Gift Multiplies Your Conservation Investment

Last year, 38 different companies made contributions to bat conservation by matching their employees' gifts to BCI. To double, or even triple, the amount of money you donate--at no extra cost to you--ask your Human Resources director if your company has a matching gift program. Then just send us their matching gift form along with your contribution. If we meet their giving guidelines, your gift could be doubled, giving us twice as many funds for conservation programs. If you have questions, call Andy Moore, Development Assistant, at 512 327-9721, ext. 28.
