

How You Can Help

- Encourage your state and federal legislators to allocate funding towards the effort to understand and fight White-nose Syndrome.
- Report unusual late-winter bat behavior (bats flying during the daytime, for example) or unexplained bat deaths to your state wildlife agency.
- Adhere to state, federal and local cave advisories and closures to help us prevent the transmission of White-nose Syndrome.
- Educate your friends and families about the benefits of bats and the White-nose Syndrome crisis.
- Follow decontamination guidelines when caving and catching bats. Never bring gear from a WNS-positive state to a WNS-negative state.
